

Omnium Points Breakdown

The omnium is scored by elapsed time for all three events. Important to note that if you are down three laps from the crit leader, we will add three laps of average lap speed. This of course means it is important to make sure the officials know your name and number if you have to take any free laps.